Background

Throughout its 30-year history, the Connecticut-based Edge Fitness Clubs has earned a reputation as a premium health club, designed to offer something for everyone at every fitness level. When the Edge Fitness Clubs made its debut into the Philadelphia market as part of its overall expansion, they turned to Hutchinson for their expert recommendations/designs for mechanical interior fit ups.

Challenge

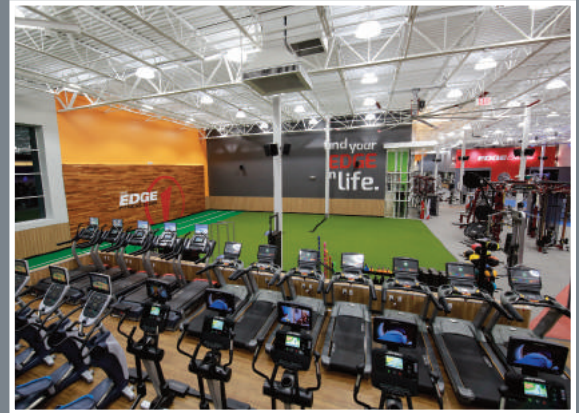

As the Edge Fitness Clubs expanded into New Jersey, their various centers required installation of energy efficient

HVAC units, as well as a temperature control system to ensure their guests are comfortable at each fitness facility.

Solution

Hutchinson managed the mechanical interior fit ups with "The Legacy Companies" for all of The Edge Fitness Clubs' new locations.

- Outfitted each fitness center with 14-16 high-efficiency HVAC units
- Installation of a high-end Wi-Fi temperature control system for all locations
- Design and installation of the duct systems, registers and new high-efficiency exterior rooftop units
- Continued service and maintenance on all RTU's for the next five years under a full (parts & labor) warranty program

"Hutchinson is a valuable partner; they provided solid recommendations, did exceptional work and worked within our budget."

Hutchinson consistently offers value engineering to help keep project costs down. They offer new innovative ideas for our consideration, and most importantly they have the manpower to be able to get in and out of these jobs efficiently."
